

Dear Friend,

Do you want a representative who is so tied to special interest money that he voted for a bloated and unworkable prescription drug program?

A representative who continually flip-flops on votes as basic as cutting student loans or gutting environmental protections?

Wouldn't it be great to be represented by someone who shares your values and will stand up for what is right?

My husband and I are raising two school-age daughters. We work hard to keep them safe and healthy, save for their education, and to instill the values and personal strength they will need to thrive in the 21st Century.

I will work hard to make sure that the Congress works to meet your needs, just as you work hard to meet the needs of your family. It will take someone with strength, values and determination to resist the culture of corruption and cronyism and to change Washington for the better.

More than four years after September 11 our Congress still fails to secure our ports and railways, screen cargo carried on passenger airplanes, and reduce the threat of nuclear materials falling into the hands of terrorists.

Our emergency management system was woefully unprepared for Hurricane Katrina. I'm alarmed and outraged, but I am not afraid. I am determined to do a better job.

If you want change, then I ask you to join my campaign for Congress—a campaign that is focused on our future. Together, we can do better.

You can join my campaign by calling 610-667-5061 or going to www.loismurphy.org.
